THE GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS AND THE RULES OF CONDUCT IN THE MARINAI. GENERAL PROVISIONS

These terms and conditions apply to all recreational craft owners as well as other people present within the Marina area. The general terms and conditions displayed at the entrance gate and on the Marina's notice board are deemed to be accepted by entering the Marina area.

These terms and conditions apply to all recreational craft owners and users as well as other people present within the Marina area on any grounds. All the provisions here of, the Rules for the maintenance of order in the Marina as well as the provisions of other official documents of the Marina, which are displayed at the entrance gate, on the notice board and in the Reception area, are deemed to be accepted by entering the Marina area.

For the purpose of interpretation of these Rules, the term "recreational craft user" means the recreational craft owner and any other people who are actually using the vessel, regardless if they are the vessel's owner, an attorney of the owner or they are just using the vessel on any other legal basis. This also applies to all people who are using the vessel without the knowledge of the owner and to all people who are using the vessel without the owner's consent.

All provisions of the Rules for the maintenance of order in the Marina, the General Terms and Conditions of the Marina and other official documents of the Marina apply to all recreational craft users.

II. MISCELLANEOUS

The Marina assigns vessels to berths according to its berthing plan and the decision of the Marina Management. Subject to modifications to said plan, i.e. according to the decision of the Marina Management, the vessel may be reassigned to another berth.

The recreational craft user is obliged to take care of the vessel moored at the Marina and he/she is liable for any damage caused to other vessels, the shore, machines, devices, appliances, any facility or equipment owned by the Marina or a third party, which are located within the area under the supervision of the Marina. The recreational craft user must at any time be in possession of a valid general third party liability insurance.

Every recreational craft user must be in possession of a valid vessel insurance for all damages caused to other vessels, people or the Marina.

The Marina is entitled to establish special terms and conditions for special vessels that require special treatment.

A vessel is deemed to have been delivered after filling out and signing the contract and the checklist and after handing out the vessel keys at the reception. The Marina is not liable for vessels that have not been properly delivered as described above.

The recreational craft user is obliged to check in without delay at the mooring personnel's office or at the Marina Reception and to immediately produce at the Marina Reception valid vessel's certificates (the original or a certified copy of the certificate of registry/registration card, a proof of current vessel insurance, a document that proves the ownership of the vessel (Certificate of Registration or authenticated registration card), a valid passport or a valid personal identity card, and for foreign flag vessels also a permit for navigation in Croatian waters and the passenger list).

The recreational craft user is obliged to timely notify the reception of the Marina of every departure from port.

If the vessel has a berth rental agreement in place, the recreational craft user is obliged to report to the Marina every absence of the vessel longer than one day. He also has to announce the return of the vessel at least 24 hours in advance.

Before leaving the Marina, the recreational craft user is obliged to pay for all the services that he/she made use of according to the current price list. The Marina is entitled to keep the possession of the vessel or the user's belongings until he/she clears all the debts.

In the case of departure from the Marina by land, all activities in relation to the lifting of the vessel and its loading on the trailer will be carried out through the Marina reception.

During the vessel's absence, the Marina may rent the berth to another user.
